

Membrane Packagings

safetyBag®

Gut verpackt

Highly flexible but virtually tear proof membranes form around the enclosed object and hold it securely. Products can thus be transported or stored freely floating.

Your advantages

- optimum protection against external hazard (mechanical damages, vibrations, etc.)
- fast and simple handling
- reduction of storage volume (e.g. in comparison with foam)
- re-usability
- environmental sustainability (disposal as recovered paper)
- professional appearance

Several process costs can be minimized thanks to membrane packaging. (e.g. for purchase, storage, damages in transit, waste disposal, etc.)

Membrane packagings adapt to the product's outline like a second skin.

So whether the objects are round, pointed, oddly-shaped or of different sizes, the membrane packaging is entirely safe.
